“I am honored to have received the Mitchell-Beall-Rosen Scholarship Award. This financial support is greatly appreciated. Scholarships like these are the reason I am able to pursue a Yale education. The Scholarship Committee and NASA Federal Credit Union have my sincerest thanks and gratitude for selecting me.”

In 2022, NASA Federal donated a total of $36,000 in scholarships to eight deserving members. Learn more at nasafcu.com/scholarship.

A NOTE FOR OUR MEMBERS

In light of recent news in the financial industry, it is understandable for you to have questions or concerns. We want to assure you that NASA Federal Credit Union is well-capitalized, has access to ample liquidity, and has a diversified balance sheet and member base.

Unlike for-profit banks, NASA Federal Credit Union is a not-for-profit financial cooperative focused on providing financial benefits directly to you, our member owners, not stockholders. This means we can offer lower loan rates, higher deposit rates, and lower fees compared to banks.

What’s more, deposits at NASA Federal Credit Union are federally insured by NCUA up to $250,000. This coverage is on single ownership accounts and additional separate coverage options are available for joint, retirement, and trust accounts. Credit union members have never lost a penny of insured savings at a federally insured credit union. To learn more about share insurance coverage, visit nasafcu.com/share-insurance.

The Supervisory Committee is responsible for ensuring that the Credit Union’s Board of Directors and management establish practices and procedures to properly safeguard members’ assets. The Committee is also responsible for obtaining the annual financial statement audit from a licensed, independent auditor to ensure that the Credit Union’s financial statements comply with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles and fairly represent the financial condition of NASA Federal Credit Union. In fulfilling these responsibilities, the Committee engaged the independent certified public accounting firm of CliftonLarsonAllen LLP, which directly reports to the Committee.

We are pleased to report that the annual audit conducted by CliftonLarsonAllen LLP for 2022 was completed successfully, and NASA Federal Credit Union’s financial statements were certified as fairly and appropriately presented, and in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, on March 30, 2023.

Member Savings

$75 million in member savings through lower interest rates on loans, higher deposit rates, fewer fees, and improved services

The Credit Union National Association’s (CUNA) most recent Member Benefits Report estimates that NASA Federal provided $75 million in direct financial benefits to its members in 2022 when compared to other financial institutions.
Our Work for You in 2022

We are pleased to report that our work over the past year yielded notable results in several important areas. As always, we had you—our most valued member—at the forefront of our focus.

Indeed, our dedication to helping you achieve a brighter financial future can be seen in everything we delivered in 2022. This included new technologies to make your banking safer and easier; excellent value to help you keep more money in your pocket; and outstanding member service to keep you satisfied and coming back for more.

Not surprisingly, these things, taken together, also resulted in notable results in several important areas. As always, we had you—our most valued member—at the forefront of our focus.

New Technologies, Better Banking

Our efforts to provide you with safer, more efficient banking products and services continued throughout 2022. We delivered several new technologies and programs designed to save you time, make your life simpler, and keep your accounts safer. These included:

- A new caller authentication system that helped reduce potential fraud risk on member accounts, delivered an easier member verification process, and cut down on the amount of time members spend on the phone receiving service.
- An improved mortgage application portal delivering a more intuitive and seamless online application process for members applying for NASA Federal mortgages.
- A new solar lending program delivering affordable financing to members seeking to upgrade their homes to cheaper, more ecologically friendly solar technology.
- State-of-the-art fraud programs that improved Credit Union fraud detection and mitigation efficiency and saved hundreds of thousands of dollars in potential losses.
- A modernized platform for our intranet that has provided more efficient site navigation for employees, ultimately making it easier and quicker for them to serve members.
- Completion of a digital banking vendor review, marking the first step toward our eventual move to a more modern digital banking platform and improved member web and mobile experiences.

Excellent Value and Satisfactions

Next, as in prior years, the Credit Union ensured excellent value for members through competitive loan and deposit rates and low and no fee products and services. In fact, several of our savings rates were notably above the national average throughout the year, some as high as 16.5 times the national average.

Because of this, when compared to other financial institutions, NASA Federal provided over $75 million in direct financial benefits to its members in 2022 (up from $45 million in 2021), according to the Credit Union National Association’s (CUNA) most recent report. In addition, at 92%, our member satisfaction numbers remained strong throughout 2022, indicating that you and other members like you continued to be pleased with our ability to meet your needs and serve you well.

Record Growth and Efficiency

In addition to the aforementioned technologies, value, and service delivered on your behalf in 2022, the Credit Union achieved record growth on several fronts. We completed the year just shy of $4.5 billion in assets, which represented a 22% increase over 2021’s $3.65 billion and a new milestone for asset size. At the same time, we welcomed more than 43,500 new members to the Credit Union from across the country, bringing our member base to 221,588. This, too, was a new record, and represented an 8% year-over-year increase.

“NASA Federal completed the year with $4.5 billion in assets, a 22% increase over the prior year... and a new milestone for asset size.”

We also funded a total of $1.8 billion in loans last year, an increase of 20% over 2021’s $1.5 billion. This included record growth in home loans of $889 million, $630 million in auto loans, and $319 million in other loans.

What’s more, our efficiency ratio remained very strong at 53%. This is noteworthy, as it shows that we were able to control expenses while maximizing the value we deliver to members.

Finally, we ended the year with a net worth to asset ratio of 10.47%. Total reserves, a measure of NASA Federal’s safety and soundness, topped $467.4 million. As a further measure of financial strength, Bauer Financial, an independent rating agency, awarded NASA Federal a 5-star rating.

Community Care

Our list of 2022 successes would not be complete without mentioning our community involvement. As always, NASA Federal remained committed to serving and caring for the community throughout the year.

In April, NASA Federal volunteers convened in downtown D.C. to participate in the Cherry Blossom Ten-Mile Run supporting the Children’s Miracle Network. Our $20,000 sponsorship supported Children’s National Hospitals, sick kids, and families, while also enabling approximately 18,000 runners, 12 of which were NASA Federal employees and family members and 22 of which were NASA Federal members.

At the same time, we provided $36,000 in scholarships to eight deserving student members, demonstrating our ongoing commitment to helping young people prepare for the future through higher education and financial responsibility. This was our 39th year providing scholarships through the contest, having awarded more than $500,000 to over 200 student members since its inception.

Finally, in December, the Credit Union conducted its Annual Virtual Food Drive. Because of these efforts, we were able to support those in need by donating $34,000 to eight food banks throughout the DMV.

A Rewarding 2023

As we make our way through 2023, we are committed to continuous improvement as we work to bring you the most rewarding banking products and services possible. To that end, we will focus on projects like moving from our existing digital banking platform to a new platform to deliver improved member web and mobile banking experiences by year end. In addition, by implementing a single interface for our internal operating systems in April, we will improve back-office efficiencies and, ultimately, deliver more seamless banking for members. Finally, we will also begin issuing contactless credit cards to provide a secure, convenient, and touch-free way for members to pay.

The balancing act would not be complete, however, without mentioning our ongoing efforts to support the community and provide exceptional member value and service throughout the year. As always, we are confident that NASA Federal will successfully do it all on your behalf in 2023.

Your volunteer Board of Directors, Credit Union management and all of the NASA Federal employees appreciate your business. We look forward to the privilege of serving you and meeting your financial needs throughout the upcoming year and beyond. Thank you for entrusting us with your membership.
